Long serving employees of WHPA account changes of their various jobs

Mary Henry senior nurse and retired nurse at the Mt Hagen Hospital has gathered for the Celebration of achievements of the Board.

Celebrating achievements of the Board of MHGH and new board of WHPA

The Mt Hagen General Hospital and Western Highlands Provincial Health Authority Boards have achieved much during their respective terms in the year.

The priorities of the WHPA are maternal health (KRA 5), child health (KRA 4), maternal and child health promotion/disease prevention promotion (KRA 7) through various activities in the provinces.

The senior management of the Hospital and the Provincial Health Authority has been working very closely with the Board to improve the hospital and its services to our people.

The senior management of the Hospital and the Provincial Health Authority has been working very closely with the Board to improve the hospital and its services to our people.

The senior management of the Hospital and the Provincial Health Authority has been working very closely with the Board to improve the hospital and its services to our people.

The senior management of the Hospital and the Provincial Health Authority has been working very closely with the Board to improve the hospital and its services to our people.

The senior management of the Hospital and the Provincial Health Authority has been working very closely with the Board to improve the hospital and its services to our people.

The senior management of the Hospital and the Provincial Health Authority has been working very closely with the Board to improve the hospital and its services to our people.

The senior management of the Hospital and the Provincial Health Authority has been working very closely with the Board to improve the hospital and its services to our people.

The senior management of the Hospital and the Provincial Health Authority has been working very closely with the Board to improve the hospital and its services to our people.

The senior management of the Hospital and the Provincial Health Authority has been working very closely with the Board to improve the hospital and its services to our people.

The senior management of the Hospital and the Provincial Health Authority has been working very closely with the Board to improve the hospital and its services to our people.

The senior management of the Hospital and the Provincial Health Authority has been working very closely with the Board to improve the hospital and its services to our people.

The senior management of the Hospital and the Provincial Health Authority has been working very closely with the Board to improve the hospital and its services to our people.

The senior management of the Hospital and the Provincial Health Authority has been working very closely with the Board to improve the hospital and its services to our people.
The Western Highlands Provincial Health Authority Board

The Western Highlands Provincial Health Authority Board (WHPHA) was established in March 2011 following the abolition of the then Mt Hagen Hospital Board. The WHPHA Board was formed in March 2011 following the abolition of the Mt Hagen Hospital Board in 2004. It was reconstituted in 2009. This position was abolished by the national health authorities in 2009. The new Board had worked on the hospital board since inception in 2004. The Western Highlands Hospital Board was established as the Mt Hagen General Hospital Board in 1994. The Western Highlands Provincial Authority was formed in March 2011 with the amalgamation of Mt Hagen General Hospital, the National Department of Health and the Western Highlands Department of Public Health Services. There have been many positive achievements over the past 20 years. The Western Highlands Provincial Health Authority Board (WHPHA) is part of managing cross-county health services in the province. The Board has only one year to work, however, and the Health Authority has been calling for a successor to be nominated. The Western Highlands Authority was established as the Mt Hagen Hospital Board in 1994 and was abolished by the national health authorities in 2009. The WHPHA Board has worked closely with health partners, especially the Government, to develop a cadre of new specialists such as eye specialists which have been important to the authorities. The Authority has addressed with assistance from the PNG Government and other donors, a wide range of health problems in the province. The Western Highlands Authority was established as Mt Hagen General Hospital Board in 1994. The Western Highlands Hospital Board was established as the Mt Hagen General Hospital Board in 1994.

The Chairman in particular is a very experienced and successful businessman and manager of the Western Highlands Authority. The Chairman, Mr. David Guinn CSM OBE OAM, has been on the hospital board since inception in 2004.

The main role of the WHPHA Board is to provide good patient care and from the specialist's visits, their commitment to the medical requirements of those in need of treatment. The current Board is composed of eight representatives of the Provincial Health Authority and two Board members from the Western Highlands Authority.

Mr. Guinn who owns accounting firm, Hargreaves Partners, has been on it since the inception. The Western Highlands Hospital Board was established as the Mt Hagen General Hospital Board in 1994. The Board has been working closely with health partners, especially the Government, to develop a cadre of new specialists such as eye specialists which have been important to the authorities. The Authority has addressed with assistance from the PNG Government and other donors, a wide range of health problems in the province.

More than 200 patients in April 2013. The specialists in cardiology, orthopaedics and neurology were able to make the right decisions for funds to be allocated to the provincial health authorities.

The earlier renovation of the Mt Hagen General Hospital's Medical and Accident and Emergency Unit proved to be a challenge and the Board was replaced by the current Board in 2004. The Western Highlands Hospital Board was established as the Mt Hagen General Hospital Board in 1994.

The Board has worked closely with health partners, especially the Government, to develop a cadre of new specialists such as eye specialists which have been important to the authorities. The Authority has addressed with assistance from the PNG Government and other donors, a wide range of health problems in the province.

Consequently, the annual running of the hospital is managed by the Board.